Fabrics Inspire New Costumes

NEARLY all afternoon gowns for the season, now passing have been made of plain cloths and the spring finds us prepared to welcome something different. New figured silks and light weight wools, in dull plaids or cross-bars, for all afternoon frocks traveling away from one-color cloths and familiar designs. Their creators, dealing with new fabrics, are inspired to delight us with models as original and handsome as appears in the dignified dress shown in the picture above.
 Any of the finer fabrics, whether of silk, wool or cotton, might be successfully built into a dress like this. In this frock the straight-hanging skirt is arranged in wide box plaits, with the distance between them equaling their width. It is the regulation shoe-top length with three-inch hem, and these brief details cover its description. A very graceful overgarment amounts to a short coat, with front and back panels extended to the knees and finished with embroidered motifs in silk floss.

 The coat is shortened over the hips, where a little fullness in the material suggests something of the fashionable flare at the sides. Three-quarter length sleeves are finished with a band and tabs of ribbon, in which the band slips through the tabs. The neck is finished in the same way with long ties of ribbon hanging at the front. Round, satin-covered buttons are set in a row at each side of the front, where the over-garment opens over a vest of plaided white georgette. Black satin ribbon, like that used for the ties, makes the narrow, plain girdle.

Hats for Crisp Springtime

SUMMERTIME may bring big and elaborate hats, and already rumor is making generous promises in that respect, but for early spring the number of small hats hardly leaves room for the consideration of anything else.

The small tailored hats for early wear, are brilliant in inverse ratio to their size. Everything, almost, that finds place in their construction or trimming is "shiny." Straw and silk braids, and many fabrics have a varnished, high-luster surface.

Many off-the-face shapes provide spirited small hats developed in the new materials, and there are a few models with moderately wide brims, like the hat made of silk shown at the center of the group above. Above it, at the left, a straight-brimmed sailor of braid has a top crown of georgette.

Bands of ribbon and metal buckles make its neat finish. The little hat at its right is of black and white satin straw braid and has a cut-out upturned brim with little rosettes of straw posed against it.

A similar braid covers the round crown of the hat at the left. The upturned brim is faced with a millinery patent leather, banded and crossed with braid. This is a sturdy looking little model which invites the use of a veil. Patent leather is a courtesy title for a thin, shiny fabric which is soft and very popular. Highly lustrous straw braid and crepe georgette make the trim hat opposite.

Mountainair Produce Co.*When the Whistle
Blows

"I live so close to town," said a farmer the other day, "that we can hear the whistle blow at night. And the few hands we can get listen for that whistle and quit work just as if they were working in a factory." That, says

The COUNTRY
GENTLEMAN

is what the farmer is up against this year. He can't get help. What shall he do? Well, Harry R. O'Brien discusses the question in an article next week that you surely must not miss.

The farmer needs help this year as almost never before. What to plant—and how much;
 how to meet the labor shortage; machinery problems; cooperative efforts in buying and selling; defense of the farmers' interests in state and national affairs—all these are matters that are helpfully discussed in the pages of this Great National Farm Weekly. You need
 THE COUNTRY GEN-TLEMAN this year as never before! Buy it now for a whole year—52 big weekly issues. It will cost you only $1.00.
